

the Telephone Consumer Protection Act should be retained as it is;
NJ has the best legal statutes to protect the personal space of consumers from aggressive telemarketers and that should remain as it is.